Design your hotel with the best sound and image

The design of Bang & Olufsen is world-renowned and has won numerous international awards. Every Bang & Olufsen television is built on our core competences: Vision, Sound, Quality, Possibilities and Integration.

Bang & Olufsen televisions combine the best picture with built-in speakers of the very highest performance. No matter the size and model the intelligent TV automatically adapts brightness, colour and contrast to match the light in the room. It simply looks good from every angle – even when switched off.

Sound is half the picture

The goal for Bang & Olufsen has always been to create products that reproduce the original performance, so the listener can experience the intentions of the artist and producer. This also includes the sound of our TV's as we see sound as half the picture experience. In fact, the quality of our TV-speakers is so authentic that the TV can also be used as audio solution for the hotel room.

Customised solutions – ease of use

With Bang & Olufsen, guests can control the television, music system and loudspeakers with one single remote control. It can even be tailor-made to interface with the hotel's service system and the specific electronic interior of each room: curtains, light, ventilation etc. Only the chosen functions will be available ensuring ease of use from the very first time the guests pick it up.

Specialised hospitality division

Bang & Olufsen's hospitality division can help you all the way, from inspiration and planning to implementing and integrating fully customised solutions.
